George Bush - Do Not Start World War III

Dr. Matthias Rath

The world is on the brink of World War III. Never before in history has a war with weapons of mass destruction been so likely than in the next few weeks. The greatest threat to trigger such a war does not come from a group of terrorists hidden in the Hindu Kush mountains. It comes from the Bush administration. For the next four weeks, no one anywhere in the world has a greater interest in an escalating international crisis and a new war than the Bush administration.

The Bush administration has a problem that it cannot solve in any other way: the imminent breakdown of the multi-trillion dollar pharmaceutical industry from an avalanche of product liability lawsuits.

The withdrawal of Merck's Vioxx because of fatal side effects in potentially tens of thousands of patients is just the beginning. Almost all synthetic pharmaceutical drugs have life-threatening side effects, and their manufacturers will eventually have to pay hundreds of billions of dollars in damages to drug-injured patients and their families.

The class action lawsuits against the pharmaceutical industry will dwarf those brought against the tobacco industry for the harm cigarette smoking did to the health of millions of people and to the economies of entire states.

Already now, millions of patients across America have lost confidence in pharmaceutical drugs, and their doctors are asking urgent questions of the drug makers. The full scale of this imminent collapse is revealed by the following fact: According to the Journal of the American Medical Association of April 15, 1998, the known deadly side effects from pharmaceutical drugs were then already the fourth leading cause of death in America.

Thousands of future lawsuits against drug makers will unmask the financial interest groups behind the pharmaceutical investment business. It will be found that the pharmaceutical industry is no health industry, but an investment business. Its business strategy is a giant fraud scheme: While it deceptively promises health to millions of people, the return on investment of this industry depends on the continuation and expansion of diseases. Vioxx is not the exception: it is the rule.

These lawsuits will also reveal that the financial interest groups behind this drug investment business have systematically sought to discredit and even outlaw effective and safe natural health therapies for one reason only: they are not patentable, and they threaten the pharmaceutical investment business based exclusively on patented synthetic drugs.

These lawsuits will open the eyes of the people of America and the entire world to the fact that for a century, millions of people in America and billions around the world have unnecessarily died for one reason only: the financial greed of the special interest groups that the Bush administration represents.

To make things worse, the pharmaceutical industry was the largest corporate sponsor of Bush's presidential election campaign with a clear mandate: to protect it from product liability lawsuits at all costs. Under the deceptive cover of "medical liability reform" and hidden within the "Patriot Act," the Bush administration tried to deliver this "survival kit" to the drug business. But the people of America did not fall for this unscrupulous plan.

Now the worst nightmare has come true for the Bush administration and the special interests it represents. Left without an umbrella of protectionist laws, the drug industry that has maintained diseases among millions of people for the financial gain of a few will finally be terminated by its victims.

Only in the shadow of a tragedy surpassing the horror of 9/11 by an order of magnitude can the Bush administration hold on to power - even without elections. And its first "martial law" will be a "drug maker survival kit," protecting the drug cartel from patient lawsuits.

QUESTIONS TO GEORGE BUSH

George Bush, you have to answer some urgent questions for the American people and the world:

- Why do you protect an industry that is responsible for the deaths of millions of people in America?
- Why do you divert billions of tax dollars assigned to improve the health of your countrymen into the pockets of drug billionaires making their fortunes from the continuation of preventable diseases?
- What will be your plan to avert the collapse of the drug industry after the Merck/Vioxx scandal?
- Did you not learn in early August 2001 that the pharmaceutical giant Bayer had to withdraw its flagship drug Baycol because of its deadly side effects? Didn't you know what everybody else did, that ruinous lawsuits were being filed against Bayer and other major drug companies?
- And, in the middle of this crisis for the drug industry, on August 5, 2001, didn't you receive the now infamous Presidential Daily Brief, "Bin Laden to Attack the United States"? Why did you decide to do nothing?
- Why were the ongoing FBI investigations in Summer 2001 "blocked at the highest level"?
- Were you deliberately allowing this tragedy to happen to create a media diversion to ensure the survival of the sinking pharmaceutical investment business?
- With your conduct already exposed by the 9/11 Commission, what will the American people say now that they have learned about your motives?
- With an even bigger threat now posed to the survival of the drug business, are you planning an even bigger scam than you pulled over 9/11?
- Are you really ready to sacrifice the lives of millions of people in a world war launched in the interest of the pharmaceutical investment industry you represent?

INSTRUCTIONS TO GEORGE BUSH

Here is what you will do, George Bush:

1. You will not risk another tragedy like 9/11 happening again to draw public attention away from the meltdown of the fraudulent "business with disease."
2. You will distance yourself from the contingency plans of Attorney General John Ashcroft, who in July of this year already started preparing to cancel the November elections under the pretense of a so-called "emergency." Your administration will not seize dictatorial power through a "coup d'etat" and without any democratic legitimization based solely on the dubious provisions of the Patriot Act.
3. You will instruct the FBI, the Homeland Security Office and other agencies in the United States not to trigger a crisis or panic the American people through open or covert actions.
4. You will instruct the CIA not to be involved in covert actions in other countries, triggering international crises or wars.
5. You will not attack Iran, North Korea or any other country with nuclear weapons or other weapons of mass destruction under any pretense.
6. You will instruct your ally Ariel Sharon not to escalate the conflict in the Middle East into a regional war involving weapons of mass destruction.
7. You will go to your history library and learn a lesson from 1933: Another ruler representing the giant drug and oil cartel IG Farben used the destruction by arson of the German parliament, the Reichstag, as a pretense to seize dictatorial power and to drag the entire world into World War II.
8. You will not start World War III as a smoke screen to prevent the demise of the fraudulent drug business. No one will suffer from its collapse. To the contrary, millions of lives will be saved by it.

9. After the November elections you will quietly pack your things from the White House and disappear to your ranch in Texas. There you will quietly remain until you and your administration are called to trial for violations of national and international law.
10. You will only reappear on the world stage when prosecuted before an International Criminal Court for the crimes against humanity committed by you and your administration.

The people of America and the world will not allow you and your administration to lead the world into a global disaster with millions of deaths.

With the exposure of your real motives through this public notice, your game is up. Even if you dare to pull the trigger, the entire world will be pointing at you.

The Background

Following the forced withdrawal of Merck's arthritis and acute pain medication Vioxx from the worldwide market on September 30 (after data from a clinical trial showed that the drug produced an increased risk for heart attacks and strokes) the value of Merck's shares plunged by more than $12 – reducing the net worth of the company by about $26 billion.

Subsequent revelations by FDA whistleblower Dr. David Graham would throw the future survival of Merck into question. Following revelations that Merck probably knew about the risks of Vioxx as early as 2000, a report by Dr. Graham, associate director of the FDA's office of drug safety, revealed that between 88,000 and 139,000 Americans probably experienced heart attacks or strokes after taking Vioxx, and that between 35,000 to 56,000 probably died as a result.

If President Bush did not win re-election on November 2, the whole fraudulent industry could come crashing down in a blaze of class action lawsuits. The financial interests behind the pharmaceutical 'business with disease' who backed Bush could not allow this happen and the prospect of further escalation of the war on terror once again swam into view, in order that those interests might be protected by legislation enacted under martial laws – the only way it would get past the American people.

The Reaction

On the very same day that our open letter was published, the Boston Globe railed against the influence of pharma money on US health care. Agreeing with our assessment that the industry has created a pattern of corruption that pervades all sectors of health care and drawing upon historic parallels to current events, the Globe's article made it clear that pharma drugs control US health care (The Boston Globe, October 10, 2004).

Within two days, the New York Times was questioning the impact of the billions of dollars the drug companies pour into advertising their products directly to the public each year. Concluding that this was probably the cause of Vioxx being over-prescribed to millions of patients who didn't need it, the Times made the point that such advertising undoubtedly increased the awful death and disability toll related to the use of Vioxx (New York Times, October 12, 2004).

The Outcome

We all now know that the Bush Administration will be wreaking its trail of carnage across the world for another four years. Already, President Bush has announced his intention to provide the greatest payback to the financial interests behind the industry yet seen. The medical liability reform that is his prime policy this term will protect Merck and all the other drug makers from ruin following class action lawsuits against the side effects of their drugs – including Vioxx. If this tort reform is successful, disabled patients and the relatives of those killed by drugs will have no recourse in law against the perpetrators.

Hank McKinnell, the CEO of the world's largest pharmaceutical company, Pfizer, was so moved to have President Bush back in office that he issued an homage to him on the day after his re-election, praising him profusely and saying that Pfizer looked forward to working with him to achieve "our common objective" (Pfizer website, November 3, 2004). You just knew he was speaking for the whole, rotten-to-the-core industry.

THE ALLIANCE OF NATIONS

The Historic Necessity For a New World Government Now

AN OPEN LETTER CHANGES THE COURSE OF HISTORY

This Open Letter by Dr. Rath in the New York Times of June 30, 2004, has become one of the most important and influential public statements in the history of the United Nations. With the decision on June 8, 2004, the small elite of nations constituting the Security Council apparently thought that they could ignore the UN Charter and pretend to continue 'business as usual.'

The adjacent Open Letter drew the attention of the world to the unacceptable fact that with this fateful decision, the UN Charter, the entire framework of international law and the basis for the UN's very existence were irreversibly destroyed.

The fact that this Open Letter was reprinted in leading newspapers of more than twenty countries and in countless other media documents that the entire world is aware of the fact that the UN not only had destroyed its Charter but also its credibility. In the past weeks, there has hardly been any government, international corporation, organization or university that has not been contacting our foundation through the Internet for more information on alternatives.

UN Secretary General Kofi Annan grossly underestimated the impact of this Open Letter. He embarked on a whirlwind trip around the world trying to appease the outrage especially in the developing countries. At the opening of the Panafrikan Parliament in August, he promised a 'green revolution' for Africa, and a few weeks later at the International AIDS-Conference in Bangkok, he announced pharmaceutical AIDS-drugs for all. And no one seemed to bother that Annan's closest economic advisor at both events, Jeffrey Sachs, is also an advisor to pharmaceutical giant Novartis and the international drug cartel.

THE WORLD ASKS KOFI ANNAN

On September 15, 2004, UN Secretary General Kofi Annan, could no longer put the finger in the dam. He announced on BBC that the war against Iraq was illegal. The entire world asks Kofi Annan:

- Why did you not speak up publicly in March 2003, before the illegal attack war on Iraq was launched by perpetrators in the US and the UK government? Why did you not resign immediately in protest, at a time when your voice could have made a difference in world affairs?
- Why did you not oppose the fatal decision on June 8, 2004, knowing well that this decision abolishes the UN Charter?
- Why did Dr. Rath and the people of the world have to force you from outside the United Nations to finally state publicly that this war was illegal? Why did your statement come so late, 16 months after this war was declared over by those whom you logically and correctly should have identified as criminals who launched an illegal attack war?

Today, you face the consequences of your silence:

The 59th General Assembly has become the funeral session of the United Nations. Once before, a world parliament - the League of Nations - had committed suicide coerced by the corporate interests behind the Nazis and in the wake of WW II.

Worse, during the opening session of this General Assembly, George Bush, the main perpetrator who coerced the UN's suicide, was even invited to give a 'funeral address.' And you knew that he had already announced to commit more crimes by threatening illegal attack wars against Iran and any other nation or territory desired by the corporate interests he represents.

WHY THE UN CANNOT BE 'REFORMED' OR REPAIRED

In the meantime, the UN Secretary General and the Members of the small elite in the Security Council are apparently aware of the damage they have done to the UN and to all mankind by robbing them of the only international body capable of protecting international peace and security. They also realized that the collective decision of June 8, 2004, has not only irreversibly destroyed the UN Charter but also the credibility of the UN in the world.

In order to cover up their collective guilt, Kofi Annan and members of the Security Council are creating a huge smoke screen of promises for 'reforms' and 'changes' within the UN. They have to come to grips that the United Nations and its Charter is dead and that any effort to 'reform' this dead body is as if a physician would try to resuscitate a corpse.

Germany's Foreign Minister Fischer plays a particularly malicious role. Not only did he vote for this fateful decision that destroyed the UN Charter, but he unscrupulously abused the ensuing crisis to claim a seat for Germany as a permanent member of the Security Council. Rejected by others, Fischer twisted the arms of some threshold countries including Brazil and India to back his plan. Does he really believe that he can sell a 'reform' which replaces an elite club with a slightly larger elite to the world community as a reform of the UN?

The governments of Brazil and India have to decide whether they will allow to be abused as fig leaves by an elite or whether they continue to be leaders of the developing world towards a new world body based on the principle of equal rights for all countries.

For more than 150 countries, any 'reform' of the UN is nothing but an illusion - they would be left out of any decision taking for generations to come.

ALLIANCE OF NATIONS - THE TIME TO ACT IS NOW

The governments of the world, especially the more than one hundred developing countries, now have to decide. Either they continue to allow themselves and their people to be economically and militarily abused by corporate interest groups and their political puppets within the UN, or they finally get out of their "wheel-chairs" and start building a new world government with equal rights for all nations - large or small.

An international government where the paramount principal of "One Country - One Vote" has been institutionalized, is the recently founded Panafrikan Parliament. Within this parliament, countries like Nigeria with a population of 130 million people have the same rights and duties as countries like Cape Verde with a population of less than half a million. Other regional parliaments will adapt the same fundamental principal of equal rights for all nations. A growing cooperation between these regional bodies in the areas of health, energy, trade, science, and others will pave the way towards development of poor nations, reduction of economic dependency and towards a global Alliance of Nations that warrants lasting international peace and security.

No one should be afraid to "get out of the wheelchair". The scientific technology to immediately terminate any dependency from the economic powers is already available in two key areas: health and energy. On July 1, one day after the publication of the adjacent Open Letter, the New York Times had to report that vitamins are the most effective form to prevent and treat HIV/AIDS. On September 13, Newsweek had to report that hydrogen energy - energy from water - is already being used commercially to fuel cars and provide energy to households.

Implementation of these key technologies in the developing countries is a decisive step to end their dependency from corporate colonialism forever. The time to act is now!

The only way to a world of lasting peace, security and social justice is a new organization shaped by all nations:

ONE COUNTRY - ONE VOTE

Why was the 'UN Charter of Economic Rights and Duties of States' not implemented three decades ago?

On December 12, 1974, the United Nations' General Assembly passed this important Charter with the overwhelming support of 120 member states. Excerpts of this Charter are documented below. Until now, 30 years later, none of the principles of this Charter has been implemented. They were blocked by a handful of economically powerful nations that sit in the UN Security Council and have increasingly abused the entire United Nations as a tool to impose corporate colonialism worldwide.

Without equal rights and the principle of "One country - one vote" in a world parliament, the more than 100 countries of the developing world will never achieve their right to self determination and never have a chance for real development. If the World Community does not act now and takes decisive steps towards the "Alliance of Nations", hundreds of millions of people will continue to die from preventable diseases and other direct results of economic dependency and corporate colonialism.

PREAMBLE

The General Assembly,

Reaffirming the fundamental purposes of the United Nations, in particular the maintenance of international peace and security, the development of friendly relations among nations and the achievement of international co-operation in solving international problems in the economic and social fields,

Affirming the need for strengthening international co-operation in these fields,

Reaffirming further the need for strengthening international co-operation for development,

Declaring that it is a fundamental purpose of the present Charter to promote the establishment of the new international economic order, based on equity, sovereign equality, interdependence, common interest and co-operation among all States, irrespective of their economic and social systems,

Desirous of contributing to the creation of conditions for:

- The promotion by the entire international community of the economic and social progress of all countries, especially developing countries,
- The encouragement of co-operation, on the basis of mutual advantage and equitable benefits for all peace-loving States which are willing to carry out the provisions of the present Charter, in the economic, trade, scientific and technical fields, regardless of political, economic or social systems,
- The acceleration of the economic growth of developing countries with a view to bridging the economic gap between developing and developed countries,

Mindful of the need to establish and maintain a just and equitable economic and social order through:

- The achievement of more rational and equitable international economic relations and the encouragement of structural changes in the world economy,
- The strengthening of the economic independence of developing countries,
- The establishment and promotion of international economic relations, taking into account the agreed differences in development of the developing countries and their specific needs,

Solemnly adopts the present Charter of Economic Rights and Duties of States.

CHAPTER I

FUNDAMENTALS OF INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS

Economic as well as political and other relations among States shall be governed, inter alia, by the following principles:

- (a) Sovereignty, territorial integrity and political independence of States;
- (b) Sovereign equality of all States;
- (c) Non-aggression;
- (d) Non-intervention;
- (e) Mutual and equitable benefit;
- (f) Peaceful coexistence;
- (g) Equal rights and self-determination of peoples;
- (h) Peaceful settlement of disputes;
- (i) Remedying of injustices which have been brought about by force and which deprive a nation of the natural means necessary for its normal development;
- (j) Fulfillment in good faith of international obligations;
- (k) Respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms;
- (l) No attempt to seek hegemony and spheres of influence;
- (m) Promotion of international social justice;
- (n) International co-operation for development.

CHAPTER II

ECONOMIC RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF STATES

Article 1

Every State has the sovereign and inalienable right to choose its economic system as well as its political, social and cultural systems in accordance with the will of its people, without outside interference, coercion or threat in any form whatsoever.

Article 2

Every State has and shall freely exercise full permanent sovereignty, including possession, use and disposal, over all its wealth, natural resources and economic activities. Each State has the right:

- To regulate and exercise authority over foreign investment within its national jurisdiction in accordance with its laws and regulations and in conformity with its national objectives and priorities. No State shall be compelled to grant preferential treatment to foreign investment;
- To regulate and supervise the activities of transnational corporations within its national jurisdiction and take measures to ensure that such activities comply with its laws, rules and regulations and conform with its economic and social policies. Transnational corporations shall not intervene in the internal affairs of a host State. Every State should, with full regard for its sovereign rights, cooperate with other States in the exercise of the right set forth in this subparagraph:

- To nationalize, expropriate or transfer ownership of foreign property, in which case appropriate compensation should be paid by the State adopting such measures, taking into account its relevant laws and regulations and all circumstances that the State considers pertinent.

Article 8

States should cooperate in facilitating more rational and equitable international economic relations and in encouraging structural changes in the context of a balanced world economy in harmony with the needs and interests of all countries, especially developing countries, and should take appropriate measures to this end.

Article 9

All States have the responsibility to cooperate in the economic, social, cultural, scientific and technological fields for the promotion of economic and social progress throughout the world, especially that of the developing countries.

Article 10

All States are juridical equal and, as equal members of the international community, have the right to participate fully and effectively in the international decision-making process in the solution of world economic, financial and monetary problems, inter alia, through the appropriate international organizations in accordance with their existing and evolving rules, and to share equitably in the benefits resulting there from.

Further articles:

- States have the right, in agreement with the parties concerned, to participate in sub regional, regional and inter-regional co-operation in the pursuit of their economic and social development.
- Every State has the right to benefit from the advances and developments in science and technology for the acceleration of its economic and social development.
- All States have the duty to promote the achievement of general and complete disarmament under effective international control and to utilize the resources, released by effective disarmament measures for the economic and social development of countries, allocating a substantial portion of such resources as additional means for the development needs of developing countries.

- It is the right and duty of all States, individually and collectively, to eliminate colonialism, apartheid, racial discrimination, neo-colonialism and all forms of foreign aggression, occupation and domination, and the economic and social consequences thereof, as a prerequisite for development.

• No State has the right to promote or encourage investments that may constitute an obstacle to the liberation of a territory occupied by force.

• All States have the duty to coexist in tolerance and live together in peace, irrespective of differences in political, economic, social and cultural systems, and to facilitate trade between States having different economic and social systems.

• The sea-bed and ocean floor and the subsoil thereof, beyond the limits of national jurisdiction, as well as the resources of the area, are the common heritage of mankind. On the basis of the principles adopted by the General Assembly in resolution 2749 (XXV) of 17 December 1970, all States shall ensure that the exploration of the area and exploitation of its resources are carried out exclusively for peaceful purposes and that the benefits derived there from are shared equitably by all States, taking into account the particular interests and needs of developing countries.

• The protection, preservation and enhancement of the environment for the present and future generations is the responsibility of all States.

• All States have the duty to contribute to the balanced expansion of the world economy, taking duly into account the close interrelationships between the well-being of the developed countries and the growth and development of the developing countries, and the fact that the prosperity of the international community as a whole depends upon the prosperity of its constituent parts.

• No State may use or encourage the use or economic, political or any other type of measures to coerce another State in order to obtain from it the subordination of the exercise of its sovereign rights.

The Background

Following United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan's unexpected statement ten days before that the war in Iraq was illegal, many questions needed asking - and answering.

Having already proposed a credible alternative to the failing UN earlier in the year, it seemed natural for us to subject Annan's statements, welcomed by the many opponents of the imperialistic attitudes of the United States, to some careful analysis.

Louis Echeverria
President of Mexico
from 1970 to 1976

We had discovered that nearly thirty years earlier, the UN had had the chance to adopt policies that would truly reflect the needs of the majority of its member nations and foster peace and security for the whole world. But, just as we had seen again during the unilateral invasion of Iraq by the US-led war coalition, those policies had been blocked by a handful of economically powerful nations that sit in the UN Security Council.

The reforms proposed by the high level group put together by Annan in 2003 would be simply a smoke screen to enable the status quo to continue. Annan and the members of the Security Council would never give up their colonialist powers voluntarily.

The Reaction

Within five days of the publication of this open letter, in order to save face and divert attention from the failings of the United Nations, Annan was addressing a meeting of the members of the Non Aligned Movement and calling for effective collective policies and institutions to refashion the international community.

Some may have thought this incredibly hypocritical coming as it did from a man representing a so-called world body that had ignored the needs and wishes of 95% of its members for more than fifty years.

The Outcome

Who told whom what to do?

Less than two months before the presidential elections in the United States and the United Nations Secretary General attacks President Bush for leading an illegal invasion of Iraq - Annan must have been desperate.

As election day drew nearer, Kerry and Bush were running neck and neck in the opinion polls as to who would make the best leader and the TV campaigns were getting dirty.

Unknown to the rest of the world, the Bush camp was regrouping for its final assault on the electorate and had an ace up its sleeve. Most free-thinking individuals in the United States now knew Bush for what he was - the stooge of a powerful investment group who would stop at nothing to get their way - and yet, his popularity ratings remained high. Who was supporting him?

All would be revealed come Election Day.

From 'Pharma-Fraud' to 'Pharma-Terror'

How the Bush Administration is Abusing the 'War on Terror' to Cover up the Continuous Crimes of the World's Largest Terror Organization - the Pharmaceutical Cartel and its Trillion Dollar Fraud Business with Diseases

Matthias Rath, M.D.

NOW . . .

New York City, September 11, 2001. Almost 3,000 innocent people died in this tragedy. The same number of people die every ten days from side effects of prescription drugs (Journal of the American Medical Association, JAMA, April 15, 1998). More than one million Americans die each year from preventable diseases because the Pharma-Cartel deliberately denies them access to life-saving information on natural health.

A series of Congressional Hearings were held about 9/11 and the 'War on Terror' and the reports thereof have become bestsellers. They concluded that George Bush and his Administration have continuously deceived the public, obstructed investigations at the highest level and deliberately withheld critical information from millions of Americans. But surprisingly, none of these reports addressed the decisive question: why would a government lie to its own people on matters of life and death?

The answer to this question is even more important since George Bush has made the 'War on Terror' the central theme of his attempt to get re-elected and his unscrupulous warning to the people of America to continue this 'state of war' for years to come. The answer to this key question will decide the outcome of the presidential election.

THE MULTI-TRILLION DOLLAR 'BUSINESS WITH DISEASE' IS BASED ON 'PHARMA-FRAUD' AND 'PHARMA-TERROR'

Did you know the facts that:

- The pharmaceutical industry is an investment industry that defrauds millions of people by promising them health yet the growth of this industry depends on the continuation and expansion of diseases as markets for their patentable drugs.
- In order to conduct their global fraud operation, the drug industry needed to eliminate the dissemination of effective, safe and natural alternatives that are non-patentable and less profitable. For decades, the 'Pharma-Fraud' business spent billions of dollars to buy strategic influence in medical education ('pharmacology'), health care providers, the media, political parties including the Bush administration.

- The pharmaceutical and petrochemical (oil) industries are held in the hands of the same financial interest groups, such as Rockefeller and J.P. Morgan. They were the largest donors to Bush's election campaign in 2000. Without this money, the Bush administration would not be in the White House today. In return, five out of ten key legislative initiatives during the Bush administration were nothing other than trillion dollar government subsidy programs for the pharmaceutical drug cartel.

- This huge amount of money - paid by the tax payers of America - is being rechanneled into the pockets of the Pharma investors despite the fact that safe, effective natural health alternatives are available. Millions of Americans are deliberately kept in the dark about the fact that the most common diseases among people - cardiovascular diseases, cancer and others - are essentially unknown in the animal world. Animals produce their own vitamin C and other essential nutrients that stabilize their connective tissue and enhance their immune system to defend them against diseases.

- Millions of people in America and beyond are dying from preventable diseases that only continue to exist because life-saving information about the true causes and cures is being purposely withheld from us for one reason only - financial gain for the Pharma Cartel.

The people in America are waking up to the fact ticking in more than 6 million(!) people taking this drug. Other drugs were to follow.

- The beginning avalanche of class action lawsuits against all major multi-national drug companies would have led to a meltdown of this investment industry. The losses for the special interests around the Rockefeller group would have amounted to trillions of dollars.

- Then, on Monday, August 6, 2001 - precisely in the middle of this disaster - George Bush received the now infamous Presidential Daily Brief entitled 'Bin Laden Determined To Strike in US.' George Bush must have realized that such an 'attack' would turn media interest immediately away from the imminent trillion dollar losses of the drug investors and turn it towards the tragedy that then happened on September 11.

What did George Bush do? The recent Congressional Report on 9/11 revealed: George Bush decided to do nothing!

- George Bush and his Administration even went one step further. They abused this tragedy and developed their infamous 'War on Terror' campaign with the deliberate goal to regain control and develop counter strategies for the survival of the threatened drug industry.

George Bush's 'War on Terror' is nothing other than a smoke screen to protect the 'Pharmaceutical

FACT SHEET: DEATH TOLL IN AMERICA FROM 'PHARMACEUTICAL TERRORISM'

The consequences of 'Pharma-Fraud' and 'Pharma-Terror' on the lives of the American people. For the past decades, more than one million lives could have been saved each year if the vital information on effective and safe natural health approaches had not been deliberately withheld by the pharmaceutical cartel and its political stake holders - in particular the Bush Administration.

that another unthinkable dimension has to be added to the multi-trillion dollar 'Pharma-Fraud' - the 'Pharma-Terror' being responsible for unnecessary deaths in genocidal proportions.

HOW GEORGE BUSH USES THE 'WAR ON TERROR' AS A COVER TO HIDE THE GENOCIDE OF THE 'PHARMA-TERROR'

Did you know the facts that:

- During the first days of August 2001 - only weeks before 9/11 - the scandal around the deadly side-effects of cholesterol-lowering drugs became world news. More than 50 people had died from one drug (Baycol) alone and a time bomb was Terror Organization'. Its executives and financiers are responsible for the ongoing unnecessary death of millions of patients in America alone.

The 'War against Terror' and the war against Iraq are not primarily about fighting 'terrorism' or conquering oil fields. It is part of a long-term strategy of the pharmaceutical/petrochemical investment groups to create the psychological state of fear to maintain global control.

Long term international conflicts, wars - even the use of weapons of mass destruction - can be used to achieve this goal and suppress any opposition.

FACT SHEET: LESSONS FROM HISTORY

71 years ago, an event shocked the world and set the stage for the last World War. On February 28, 1933 the German parliament building, the Reichstag, was set on fire.

The official version that 'terrorists' had led the attack was soon questioned by many. Today it is a fact that the burning of the Reichstag was deliberately used as a pretense and that the 'empowerment laws' following this event had been prepared in advance.

Following the burning of the Reichstag:

- civil rights were abolished,
- empowerment laws were enacted, including a "Homeland Security Act" ("Schutz von Heim und Reich").

This disaster provided the legal platform for 12 years of dictatorship in Germany and for WWII. The main benefactor of this war was IG-Farben, the largest European chemical Cartel seeking control of the oil and chemical industry across Europe and worldwide.

In the Nuremberg War Tribunal in 1946/47 this Chemical Cartel was tried for 'attack war', 'robbery' and 'slavery' and - as a result - it was dismantled into Bayer, BASF and Hoechst.

This War Tribunal established that without these corporations, World War II would not have been possible. US-Chief Prosecutor Telford Taylor stated: "If their guilt is not brought to the daylight, they will do even more harm in future generations."

Then and now millions of decent people are in danger of being misled by their own governments. And those who do not learn the lessons from history are doomed to live through it again!

. . . AND THEN

Berlin, February 27, 1933. 71 Years ago, the German Parliament building, the Reichstag, was set on fire. This event delivered the pretense for the transformation of a democracy into a dictatorship on behalf of the largest European corporate chemical Cartel - the precondition for WWII.

PEOPLE OF AMERICA: IT'S TIME TO ACT!

Our Foundation takes responsibility for presenting the facts. It is up to the people of America to draw the right conclusions and to act. The most urgent task is to fight the daily 'Pharma Terrorism' that threatens the health and life of every family in America. To achieve this goal, two steps are essential:

- Impeach George Bush. If the American people and their political leaders do not have the courage to start impeachment proceedings now, Bush and his financiers will be held responsible by international tribunals in the near future. And they know that. This is the reason why the Bush Administration has already coerced more than 50 countries not to sue them at the International Criminal Court in The Hague.
- Bring Pharmaceutical 'Terror Organization' to Justice for their crimes. In my last Open Letter in the New York Times four weeks ago, I encouraged the people, communities and States across America to file lawsuits against drug makers in order to save millions of lives and to bring the trillion dollar pharma-fraud to an end. Within days, the State of New York filed lawsuits against all major drug companies for fraud against the people of America. This was an important first step. In order to terminate the institutionalized terrorism of the pharmaceutical business with disease, all States, communities and all people must join this action.

The Background

In order to bring home the scale of the fraud perpetrated by the interests behind the pharmaceutical industry and the dreadful unnecessary death toll that followed as a result of the operation of this fraud, it was necessary to quantify the results in a way that would bring home to people just how serious the fraud had become.

Worldwide Death Toll of the Pharma-Fraud:
12 Million Heart Attack Victims Each Year

It was also necessary to place the profit before health tactics of the pharmaceutical interests in some historical context - as we had done in 2003 - to demonstrate that there were strong precedents to this situation that had plunged the world into war once before.

Setting out the definition of a terrorist organization helped to cement the fact in people's minds that these guys would stop at nothing in order to protect their fraudulent business and escape conviction for their criminal and murderous activities.

Worldwide Death Toll of the Pharma-Fraud:
4 Million Cancer Victims Each Year

The Reaction

On September 7, President Bush announced that Medicare premiums would rise by 17% handing a windfall profit of some $139 billion to the pharmaceutical industry (AlterNet Drug Reporter, September 20, 2004).

On September 16, three months after caving in to United States demands for legitimization of the invasion of Iraq, the United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan seemed to have recovered his senses and realized what was happening - or perhaps it was an instinct for self-preservation. Either way, he had obviously been following the debate and unexpectedly announced in an interview given to the BBC that the US-led invasion of Iraq was an illegal act that contravened the UN charter (BBC News, September 16, 2004).

Worldwide Death Toll of the Pharma-Fraud:
5 Million AIDS Victims Each Year

The Outcome

No doubt threatened by the prospect of a new Alliance of Nations replacing a rapidly disintegrating United Nations Organization, Kofi Annan suddenly sprang to life and began to attack the United States. These attacks would also signal the start of a rescue mission for the UN, managed by Annan, that would be played out over the coming months.

Seeing the death toll from the activities of the fraudulent pharma-terror business set out in the world's largest newspaper was a chastening experience for many people. The extent of the criminal activities inherent in this industry had never before been so graphically stated and that fact would lead to very serious consequences for the industry and its web of influence. The future survival of the 'business with disease' remains in the balance at the time of publication of this book.

Number One Priority for the New Democratic Administration

A PATIENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS

On July 25, 2004, The New York Times wrote: "The Democratic vice presidential candidate Senator John Edwards, a long-time plaintiff attorney, said that his proudest accomplishment in Washington thus far was to help win Senate passage of a bill defining patients' rights, including the right to sue." Unfortunately, this bill never became law.

The first task for the new Democratic administration is a Patients' Bill of Rights to protect the health interests of the American people from the unscrupulous pharmaceutical investment business, which is driven by the continuation of diseases.

The American people can no longer tolerate that the health and lives of every family are threatened by an investment industry that fraudulently promises health - yet, in fact, promotes diseases as billion-dollar markets for its drugs.

This "Pharma-Fraud" is the largest organized fraud in history and the very foundation of the pharmaceutical industry.

This Patients' Bill of Rights must protect patients' rights to free access to life-saving information about natural, non-patentable therapies, and it must secure the patients' right to sue drug makers for the devastating side effects of their synthetic, patented drugs.

Matthias Rath, M.D.

THE IMMEDIATE CAUSES OF THE CURRENT HEALTH CARE CRISIS

The Bush Administration and the "Pharma-Fraud" Business

Do You Know the Facts That:

- The pharmaceutical and petrochemical (oil) industries are held in the hands of the same financial interest groups, such as Rockefeller and J.P. Morgan.
- The pharmaceutical industry has become the largest and most profitable investment industry with annual gains in excess of $540 billion. (Source: Vatican, February 2004)
- The drug manufacturers were the largest donors to the 2000 presidential election campaign. Without this support, the Bush administration would not be in the White House today.

- Key representatives of the pharmaceutical industry were appointed as policy makers in the Bush administration, most notably Donald Rumsfeld, a former pharmaceutical CEO and highly decorated drug maker executive.
- Five out of 10 key legislative initiatives during the Bush administration were nothing other than multi-billion dollar government subsidy programs for the pharmaceutical drug cartel.
- With these kinds of politically motivated kickbacks amounting to hundreds of billions of dollars, the pharmaceutical cartel is again investing millions in the Bush re-election campaign.

Understanding the "Pharma-Fraud" Business

To prevent Bush from being re-elected and to ensure a new policy direction, we need to unmask the interest group behind the Bush administration - the unscrupulous "Pharma-Fraud" business.

Do You Know the Facts That:

- The pharmaceutical industry is not a naturally grown health industry, but rather is an artificially designed investment "business with disease."
- The pharmaceutical industry promises health solutions to the people of the world, yet the return on investment for this industry is dependent on the continuation and expansion of diseases as drug markets.

- The engine of this "Pharma-Fraud" is the patentability of drugs, a business principle that requires the elimination of all natural, non-patentable health approaches and the exclusive development of synthetic patentable drugs, most of which have toxic side effects.
- The prevention and eradication of diseases can and will never be in the interest of this industry because they threaten its return on investment and eventually will destroy this investment business by eliminating its marketplace - diseases.

The pharmaceutical investment business with disease is the largest organized fraud operation in history - it promises health, yet delivers diseases!

THE INHUMANE DIMENSIONS OF "PHARMA-FRAUD" AND ITS COVER-UP BY THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION

The Heavy Toll of the "Pharma-Fraud" Business on the American People

The consequences of this "Pharma-Fraud" affect the health and lives of every American - many of whom have already paid the ultimate price.

Do You Know the Facts That:

- More than 100,000 Americans die each year from the known deadly side effects of prescription drugs, an epidemic only surpassed by the deaths from cardiovascular disease and cancer. (JAMA, April 15, 1998)
- There is hardly any pharmaceutical drug without known deadly side effects. These harmful drugs include, among many others, beta blockers, calcium antagonists, chemotherapy drugs and cholesterol blockers (statins).
- Statins are currently taken by 11 million Americans daily, yet their health benefits remain doubtful as their side effects accumulate. Fifty people died from taking the statin Baycol, and the six million who have taken this drug are living on borrowed time.

- A recent study with statins in pregnant women published in the New England Journal of Medicine on April 8, 2004 showed that 20 out of 52 babies - almost half of them - exposed to harmful statin drugs during pregnancy were born with severe malformations.
- All chemotherapy drugs - the "Pharma-Fraud" answer to the cancer epidemic - are severely toxic agents that damage all cells in the body. Thus, the most frequent side effect of chemotherapy is the development of new forms of cancer in patients taking these drugs.
- The "Pharma-Fraud" answer to AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) is AZT, a toxic agent that blocks the genetic material in all cells, including the white blood cells required for the patient's immune defense. Thus, the most frequent side effect of AIDS treatment is an even more severe form of this disease.

There Must Be No Amnesty for the Ongoing "Pharma-Fraud" Business

The damage to the health of the American people and the economy of the entire nation done by the "Pharma-Fraud" business far surpasses the damage caused by the tobacco industry.

The health and lives of millions of people are being deliberately sacrificed by the withholding of life-saving health information for one reason only - it is not patentable and less profitable. The patentable synthetic drugs marketed instead cause severe side effects to an extent that this has caused the fourth largest deadly epidemic among American people - prescription drug death (JAMA 4/15/98). The costs to society of this "Pharma-Fraud" amount to billions of dollars.

Similar to the tobacco litigation, the people, the communities and states across America have filed lawsuits against drug makers to save lives and to bring the multi-billion dollar "Pharma-Fraud" to an immediate end. In the Baycol case, more than 10,000 complaints are already pending against Bayer and GlaxoSmithKline.

In order to protect "Pharma-Fraud" and to allow this unscrupulous business to continue, the Bush administration seeks to grant general amnesty to the drug industry. Because no healthy-minded person would support such a political favor - the Bush administration tried to sell a "Trojan Horse" to the American people:

- First, they tried to hide the "Pharma-Fraud" amnesty behind the so-called "medical liability litigation reform."
- Second, they tried to insert the "Pharma-Fraud" amnesty into the Patriot Act and other laws hastily created in the wake of September 11.
- Now, with little time left in their tenure, they have dropped all pretense. In a dramatic change of established government policy, they announced on July 24, 2004 their determination for a comprehensive "Pharma-Fraud" amnesty by banning consumers from suing drug manufacturers.

THE NATURAL HEALTH ALTERNATIVES AND THE EFFORTS OF THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION TO BAN THEM

Lifesaving Natural Health Alternatives Deliberately Withheld From the American People by the "Pharma-Fraud" Business

In order to conduct their global fraud operation, the drug industry needed to eliminate the dissemination of effective, safe and natural alternatives that are non-patentable and do not lend themselves to financial speculation.

As a direct result of this health censorship, millions of Americans did not get proper, lifesaving health information that would have allowed the effective prevention of cardiovascular disease, cancer and other health problems.

This black out of essential health information was no easy task. For decades, billions of dollars have been spent by the "Pharma-Fraud" business to buy strategic influence from medical schools (pharmacology), health care providers, the media, political parties and, ultimately, the Bush administration.

The American people must learn immediately that scientific discoveries have been made explaining why the three leading causes of death in America, heart attacks, cancer and strokes, are essentially unknown in the animal world.

Do You Know the Facts That:

- Most human diseases are essentially unknown in the animal world, including cardiovascular disease, heart attacks, strokes, diabetes, high blood pressure, cancer and other diseases.
- As opposed to humans, almost all animals produce large amounts of ascorbic acid (vitamin C) in their livers by converting it from sugar. This vitamin is the single most important catalyst for the production of collagen and elastin, the key molecules for stabilizing blood vessels and connective tissues and, thereby, for the prevention of cardiovascular disease and other conditions.
- AIDS - the greatest threat to the developing world - is not reproducible in animal models. It has recently been shown to be best managed by a combination of vitamins and other essential nutrients that now can save millions of lives and billions in health care costs. (NYT, July 1, 2004)

There is no reason why these diseases should continue to threaten millions of people once their scientific cause has been understood. And it has.

The Bush Administration's Final Coup: Abuse of WHO for Protection of the "Pharma-Fraud" Business and a Global Ban on Natural Health

The people of America and all mankind have reached a stage where we can liberate ourselves from the yoke of today's most common diseases and from the "Pharma-Fraud" business.

It is the responsibility of and an opportunity for a new Democratic administration to provide this ultimate service to the American people, saving millions of lives and billions in health care costs.

This will be no easy path. The special interest groups behind "Pharma-Fraud" will put up a fierce battle to protect their economic privileges derived from their multi-billion dollar business with disease. In this endeavor, the new Democratic administration needs the full support of the people of America - and they will get it.

The rewards will be breathtaking: In coming generations, heart attacks and strokes will be the exception, and today's most common diseases will be essentially unknown. The resources set free will be used to meet urgent needs in the areas of health, education, unemployment and other pressing issues of mankind.

In a final coup, the Bush administration is trying to block this liberation of mankind from the burden of disease.

Do You Know the Facts That:

- The Bush administration is spearheading an international effort to outlaw the dissemination of information about the lifesaving health benefits of vitamins, essential nutrients and other natural non-patentable therapies.
- The Bush administration even abuses the World Health Organization's Codex Alimentarius Commission for one purpose only: the protection of the "Pharma-Fraud" business against the rapid advances in the area of natural health. (For more information, visit our website.)

But this effort by the Bush administration - behind the backs of the American people - is nothing but the last hurrah of a system that is bound to die.

With the presidential election in November 2004, the people in America have the opportunity to shorten this agony.

Isn't That Enough for the People of America?

You have the choice: You can continue sacrificing your health and life for the perpetuation of the "Pharma-Fraud" business - or, you can take action now to eradicate today's most common diseases and terminate the "Pharma-Fraud."

This November, vote only for politicians who guarantee your basic health rights:

- Unrestricted patient right to sue drug makers for life-threatening drug side effects
- Free patient access to lifesaving, natural, non-patentable health measures

The Background

We had previously censured Senator Kerry for not speaking out clearly against the invasion of Iraq, noting in the process that the Democrats were also responsive to the same interest groups as President Bush and his cronies.

However, in the absence of any credible alternatives candidates, we reasoned that Senator Kerry had the best chance to go head to head with President Bush for control of the White House and that, if he won, it would take some time for those interest groups to re-establish their grip. This might offer us a window of opportunity in which to drive home the health and peace message.

Kerry's running mate John Edwards had already declared his support for patient's rights, including the right to sue (an issue that was to rear its ugly head again later in the year) and it seemed possible that a new Democratic President might actually improve the public health - at least in the short term.

If the influence of the pharmaceutical boys in this process was to be negated, we needed to act now and inform the people of America why their healthcare system was in crisis, who was responsible and what they could do about it.

The Reaction

Three days after the publication of this open letter, the security threat level in the readership area of the New York Times was raised to orange (high) under the Homeland Security Advisory System alert notification process. Coincidence?

One year later the predictions of this Open Letter came true in a dramatic way: Drug maker Merck was found responsible for the death of a VIOXX patient and fined 256 Million dollars. The death toll from this one harmful drug alone is estimated at around 30.000 patients.

The Outcome

Repeatedly calling the pharmaceutical industry, one of the largest and most profitable businesses on earth, a fraud might have been seen as a high risk strategy - except that it was true.

Stating that truth publicly in the pages of the New York Times meant that the genie was out of the bottle for good. The information would spread worldwide and no one could any longer be in any doubt about the true nature of this industry.

This battle that we had been engaged in for so long would now become a fight to the death - and to the winner would go the spoils. Nothing less than the future of human health was at stake.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, JUNE 30, 2004

The United Nations Committed Suicide!

US Administrator Paul Bremer fled Iraq on June 28 like a thief in the night. George Bush and his administration in the meantime are trying to sell their conquest of Iraq to the people of the world as a contribution to a safer world. Yet everyone knows that the opposite is true.

Six billion people around the world are waking up to the frightening reality that the United Nations as a guarantor of peace and security no longer exists. For the second time in the history of mankind an international organization - explicitly created to maintain peace and international security - has been destroyed. After the demise of the League of Nations 70 years ago, the United Nations committed political suicide in June 2004.

In March 2003, George Bush led a war on Iraq against the decision of the UN and in violation of international law. With its decision made on June 8, 2004 to authorize a US-led military occupation, the UN Security Council retrospectively approved the Iraq War. With this decision the UN Security Council destroyed its own code of international law, the UN Charter and thereby, the very basis for the UN's existence.

George Bush will go into history as the politician who successfully helped destroy the United Nations. This was not a random act. He completed a plan outlined in earlier strategy papers including the "Project for a New American Century" by Wolfowitz, Cheney, Rumsfeld and others holding top positions in the Bush administration. Now, in June 2004 their mission was accomplished.

WHAT THIS MEANS

Any nation of the world, and especially developing nations, is now prey to global corporate interests.

With the UN's code of international law no longer existing the only security umbrella protecting the great majority of nations is gone. This means that from now on any country - especially the more than 150 developing and threshold countries - can be threatened, attacked and conquered, under any pretense, by any stronger economic power.

Six billion people now live in a world exposed to escalating crises, further wars and corporate greed.

Any country can now be invaded and its people forced to live under conditions that they did not choose voluntarily. The world is no longer governed by national colonial powers. These colonial mechanisms have been replaced by corporate colonialism and the greed of globally operating investment groups and their political stakeholders. In both cases the suffering for the people of the world is the same.

Mankind now has the choice.

We, the people of the world, have to decide now: Do we want the 21st century to become a century of corporate rape of the world's resources and the subjugation of the people's health and lives to corporate interests? Or do we decide to take another route?

THE HISTORIC OPPORTUNITY

The political suicide of the United Nations was the last step in the demise of this organization's role as servant to the people of the world.

The permanent members of the UN Security Council, notably the US and UK, long ago started to abuse the UN as the political arm of its global corporate interests. These corporate interests also systematically abused the UN sub-organizations WHO and WTO as instruments to cement structures of "corporate colonialism."

Particularly devastating has been the influence of the largest investment industry on earth - the pharmaceutical industry. While they promise to deliver health to the world, their return on investment is based on the continuation of diseases - as global markets for their drugs.

By abusing the WTO these interests forced the acceptance of the unscrupulous principle of patent fees even upon the poorest nations of the world. At the same time, by abusing the WHO, the drug companies are trying to outlaw effective natural health alternatives under cover of the UN's Codex Alimentarius. Hundreds of millions of people have died because the UN has betrayed its mandate from the people of the world.

Mankind now has the historic opportunity to create a lasting world government for the people by the people - the Alliance of Nations. Its founding principles are set out below. Now it's up to the people of the world to make it a reality.

Matthias Rath, M.D. is the world-renowned scientist who, during the Iraq War, became a "conscience of the world." In his last Open Letter in The New York Times on April 25, 2004, Dr. Rath called for the impeachment of President Bush. This Open Letter was followed within only two days by the airing of the now infamous torture pictures on TV and an erosion in credibility that the current administration will not survive.

With this Open Letter today, Dr. Rath closes the chapter on George Bush and points to the historic opportunity the current situation offers for the future of all mankind.

Now the People of the World Must Build the Alliance of Nations:

PREAMBLE

1. A Lasting World Government for the People by the People. The Alliance of Nations (AN) is an international organization open to all countries of the world to join. Particularly, the developing countries and economic threshold nations, as well as smaller industrialized nations, have a great need for an international alliance able to protect their integrity as nations, as well as the fundamental interests of billions of people. The participation of the people and of non-governmental organizations is an essential part of the Alliance of Nations.

2. The Need to Replace the United Nations. The Alliance of Nations replaces the United Nations as a world government because in connection with the Iraq War, the UN has abandoned its very own Charter, broken its own code of international law and, thereby, lost its very reason for existing. This was only the final step. Over the past decades, the UN has already been abused as the political arm of global economic powers to force their interests upon the less wealthy nations and the people of the world.

3. The Urgency to Protect the Nations of the World. The primary purpose for the founding of the UN and its Charter was to ban wars of aggression in order to prevent another World War and to protect the more than 150 smaller nations in the world from being occupied by economic powers on behalf of corporate interests. With the UN code of international law now irreparably destroyed, this protective shield no longer exists. There now arises an objective and urgent need for a new code of international law to protect the great majority of nations and their people and to secure world peace.

4. The Urgency to Prevent a World War. Twice before, mankind has decided to create world parliaments. In 1919, after the end of WWI, the League of Nations was founded in order to prevent another World War. Its failure to stop the rise of Nazi Germany paved the way for the next World War. In 1945, in response to WWII, the United Nations was founded. Six decades later, this body had failed too because it was unable to stop some of its member states from attacking other nations in open breach of the UN's international law. This failure paves the way for more international crises with the ultimate danger of WWIII, a war that would be fought with weapons of mass destruction. The Alliance of Nations will be the first world government deliberately established before - not after - a World War, with the determination of all mankind to prevent its own demise and secure its future.

The sooner the Alliance of Nations is founded and the more nations support it, the sooner international security will be reestablished and the sooner we and our children can live in a world of lasting health, peace and social justice.

PURPOSES AND PRINCIPLES

The Alliance of Nations is founded as a world government for the people by the people. Its purposes and principles being a lasting global government serving exclusively the interests of the people of the world.

1. The Goals. The goals of the Alliance of Nations are to promote and secure a world of peace, health and social justice as defined by its constitution.

2. Equal Rights for All People. The purpose of the Alliance of Nations is to secure peace for all inhabitants of our planet and to make sure that all people enjoy the same rights to health, dignity, prosperity and access to the resources of our planet.

3. Equal Rights for All Nations: One Country - One Vote. Every country, rich or poor, is equal within the Alliance of Nations and has one vote. The decisions of the Alliance of Nations are binding for its member states. The "One Country - One Vote" principle in a world government is an important step to secure world peace for all future generations.

4. People Before Profits. The Alliance of Nations is planning and carrying out its policies in the interests of the people, not on behalf of the interests of corporations. In order to protect their fundamental rights, the people of the world can demand a global referendum to be carried out on important issues, such as health, that is binding to the world parliament.

5. Benefits of Peace and Prosperity. Membership in the Alliance of Nations lies in the interest of every person and every nation on earth because this global alliance meets their most basic needs. The first and foremost need of the people of the world is that of peace and international security through the Alliance of Nations. The needs for health, social justice and prosperity will be met by an extensive multilateral exchange of information and cooperation in the field of health, science, trade, micro- and macro-economy, culture and other areas.

6. Eliminating the Gap Between Poor and Rich Countries. By using scientific advances and new technologies, the economic dependency between rich and poor nations will decrease and eventually be eliminated. Two areas - health and energy - will be jointly developed with the highest priority because these two sectors have been consistently abused in the past to create international dependencies and to cement global inequality. Thus, addressing these areas will inevitably decrease the dependency of the great majority of nations, end economic colonialism and ultimately close the gap between rich and poor countries.

7. Health for All - By Eradicating Today's Most Common Diseases. Deficiencies in micronutrients have been scientifically proven to be the cause of today's most common diseases - including cardiovascular disease. Animals don't get heart attacks, because - as opposed to humans - they produce their own vitamin C in their bodies, which enhances collagen production and the stability of the blood vessel wall. In a similar way, micronutrient deficiencies are a primary cause for the susceptibility to infectious diseases, including AIDS.

The eradication of cardiovascular disease, cancer and osteoporosis, as well as the control of global epidemics such as tuberculosis and AIDS largely depend on the global dissemination of this basic health information. By promoting World Health Alphabetization, the Alliance of Nations will terminate health illiteracy - thereby eliminating the precondition for today's most common diseases - thereby, saving billions of lives and trillions in health care costs.

8. Terminating the Investment "Business With Disease." The Business With Disease, the deliberate continuation and promotion of diseases for corporate gain, is outlawed by the Alliance of Nations. Patents in the area of health, as well as human, animal and plant life, are eliminated because they are the economic basis for the pharmaceutical investment business with disease.

9. Energy for All. New sources of renewable energy are being made available that can essentially provide free energy to all people on our planet. Besides solar energy, the use of energy from water (hydrogen technology) has been scientifically developed. The mass production of these renewable forms of energy and their provision to the people of the world at essentially no cost decreases any dependency on the petrochemical investment business.

10. Comprehensive System of International Law. The International Law of the Alliance of Nations replaces the nonexistent UN's international code of law. The International Law of the Alliance of Nations is governed by the principles of dignity and equal rights for all people of the world and the desire for peace, security and justice for all nations, large and small. This International Law of the Alliance of Nations is binding for all members and sanctions are defined for violations. Leading wars of aggression in violation of this International Law of the Alliance of Nations will be punished by immediate international isolation of the perpetrators.

11. Peaceful Settling of Conflicts. The member nations of the Alliance of Nations commit to resolve all conflicts arising among each other by peaceful means.

12. International Security System. In order to protect its members from being threatened, attacked or occupied by non-member states, the Alliance of Nations sets up and maintains a defense system, including peacekeeping forces, that is sufficient to cope with such a threat. The Alliance of Nations commits to the exclusively defensive nature of this force.

13. Disarmament as a Goal. The maintenance of defensive and protective forces of the Alliance of Nations is a necessary step in a world that is still governed by economic powers and military force. At the same time, the Alliance of Nations member countries are committed to working toward a global ban of weapons of mass destruction and toward disarmament.

14. Seat of the Alliance of Nations. The key to lasting peace on our planet is the abolition of inequality between rich and poor countries. In order to accelerate this process, the first seat of the Alliance of Nations is chosen to be a country representing the developing world with a history of liberation from the shackles of colonialism.

The Background

In mid June, the 9/11 Commission concluded in its report that there was "no credible evidence that Iraq and al-Qaeda cooperated on attacks against the United States." The link between al-Qaeda and Iraq had been one of the justifications President Bush used for the invasion of Iraq.

Originally scheduled to take place on June 30, the transfer of power back to the Iraqis happened secretly two days early - the head of the provisional authority couldn't get out of there fast enough. The Bush Administration touted this as proof of the restoration of democracy and justification for its unilateral actions, but the truth was rather different.

In early June the United Nations had committed suicide by retrospectively authorizing the US-led military invasion of Iraq, finally destroying any shred of credibility it had left following its abysmal performance since March 2003. President Bush had achieved his goal of legitimacy for the invasion and thus avoided the possibility of prosecution for war crimes and could now start to think about his re-election in more positive terms. Iraq was no longer needed.

In accordance with our consistent approach of not only analyzing and exposing the negative aspects of the situation, but also proposing positive solutions to the problems identified, the apparent death of the United Nations presented us with a challenge. What could stand in its place?

The solution that we proposed could perhaps be one of the most important documents we have ever published. The implications of a new Alliance of Nations for the health, peace and security of the people of the world are far reaching.

The Reaction

On the same day that our open letter appeared, the John Kerry campaign website set a new record for online contributions, receiving $3 million in one day. Apparently, people were listening.

Also on June 30, the Chinese Vice President on a trip to South Africa declared that China would work vigorously to build a new Africa-Asia partnership and South African President Thabo Mbeki called upon the developing world to move beyond churning out declarations and to turn words into concrete actions to address the world's pressing problems.

The very next day, a landmark study by Harvard University was published in the New England Journal of Medicine and summed up the same day in the New York Times: "The study found that daily doses of multivitamins slow down the disease and cut the risk of developing AIDS in half."

The Outcome

The Alliance of Nations declaration was the culmination of more than ten years of analysis, exposure and battles against the pharmaceutical 'business with disease' and, since 9/11, the Bush Administration's attempts to overturn democracy in pursuit of the survival of its supporters in that industry.

The battles were by no means over, but the battlefields upon which they would be fought in the future had changed. The unmasking of the pharmaceutical industry would continue and move to new levels as we moved inexorably towards Election Day.

For the past three weeks the world has been assaulted by inhumane pictures of Iraqi prisoner abuse. Reports of the abuse have been known for several months, and millions of people worldwide asked, "Why were they made public only now?" The following Open Letter by Matthias Rath M.D., published by The New York Times on April 25, 2004, preceded publication of the abuse by only three days.

The sequence of events documented in Dr. Rath's Open Letter provides Senator John Kerry with powerful arguments against the Bush/Cheney Administration. Why does he not use them? Could it be because the same financial interests influence Senator Kerry and because John D. Rockefeller IV is the head of Kerry's presidential election campaign in West Virginia?

The only way for the people of America to build a healthy and peaceful nation and uphold its constitutional and democratic rights as manifested in the "Declaration of Independence" is to demand the immediate impeachment of George Bush! The time to act is now!

When Will You Speak Up?

Prevent World War III - Now!

The Bush/Cheney Administration has only one chance for survival: Escalate crises to provoke World War III
A dramatic call by Matthias Rath, M.D. for a "regime change" in the White House
The people of America, all Heads of State and the United Nations must act now to prevent Armageddon!

PREPARATIONS FOR WW III ARE UNDER WAY

- The 9/11 investigation has confirmed the worst suspicions of the victims' families and the world community: the Bush/Cheney Administration deliberately deceived the people of America and the world about the 9/11 tragedy and the war against Iraq.
- The warnings about "Bin Laden Determined to Strike in US" were not only deliberately ignored by the Bush/Cheney regime, but the investigation has been actively obstructed. Remember Coleen Rowley, the FBI agent whistle-blower who became TIME's "Person of the Year" for revealing that her warnings had been suppressed at the highest level. With so much to hide, the Bush/Cheney regime cannot afford to turn over the White House and the Pentagon to a Kerry Administration.
- The only chance for the survival of the Bush/Cheney regime and the only chance to avoid prosecution is the escalation of an international crisis into a war that includes the deliberate use of weapons of mass destruction.
- With the CIA and FBI unavailable for further misuse, the Bush/Cheney regime openly prepares international crisis strategies:
  - In the Middle East, the Bush/Cheney regime is backing Sharon's hazardous political plans in return for Sharon deliberately escalating the Israeli/Palestinian crisis into a regional war by targeted assassinations of political opponents and by provocation of the entire Arab world.
  - The situation in the Korean peninsula remains explosive. Cheney's recent intervention in that very region increased - not decreased - the risk of war.
- Both these strategies lead to the use of weapons of mass destruction - by either side. The resulting state of fear would then - similar to the 9/11 tragedy - abolish civil rights and democracy and keep Bush/Cheney in power against the will of the people.
- The abolition of democracy is the only way the special interest groups that brought the Bush/Cheney regime into the White House can retain global control.

REMEMBER THE FACTS

- The Rockefeller-financed oil and drug industries are the financial interests behind Bush/Cheney and the largest sponsors of their presidential election campaign.
- Only weeks before 9/11, during the first days of August 2001, the scandal around the deadly side effects of cholesterol-lowering drugs hit the news. More than 50 people had died from one drug (Baycol) alone and a "time bomb" was ticking in more than six million (!) other people on this drug. Other drugs were to follow.
- The beginning avalanche of class action lawsuits against all major multi-national drug companies would have led to a meltdown of this investment industry. The losses for the special interest groups would have amounted to trillions of dollars.
- Then, on Monday, August 6, 2001 - precisely in the middle of this disaster - George Bush receives the now infamous Presidential Daily Brief entitled "Bin Laden Determined to Strike in US." George Bush must have realized that such an "attack" would turn media interest immediately away from the imminent trillion-dollar losses of the drug investors and turn it toward the tragedy that then happened on September 11. What would you have done in the shoes of George Bush? He decided to do nothing!
- Bush and Cheney went even one step further. They actively abused this tragedy to abolish civil rights with the deliberate goal of regaining control and developing counterstrategies for the survival of the embattled drug industry and their financiers.

THE OPTIONS FOR BUSH/CHENEY NOW

- If they give in to what is evidently becoming the will of the people of America and turn over the White House to a new administration in a democratic election, the Bush/Cheney regime risks that:
  - The sobering truth about the involvement of this regime in the public deception about 9/11 and the Iraq War will be exposed.
  - The Bush/Cheney regime and those who did not distance themselves from it will face prosecution under national and international law.
  - A political crisis worse than Watergate will be triggered that will destroy the political credibility of the United States for decades.
- Knowing that - Bush and Cheney evidently embarked on a desperate strategy that imperils the entire world. Exploding bombs and conventional wars have become daily news for the people of the world. The only event that would shock the world beyond the 9/11 tragedy would be the detonation of weapons of mass destruction - either provoked or in battle. This tragedy would then serve as a pretense for the continuation of the Bush/Cheney regime - under martial law.
- In light of the recent pact between the Bush/Cheney regime and Sharon for the targeted assassination of political opponents by Sharon and the deliberate provocation of the entire Arabian and Islamic world, this is the most likely region where this war is being provoked. The world has to realize that World War III is being deliberately planned by the Bush/Cheney regime.

Matthias Rath, M.D. is a world-renowned scientist and member of the New York Academy of Sciences and other international scientific organizations. Fellow scientist and Nobel Peace Prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling considered Dr. Rath as his successor.

Before and during the Iraq war, Dr. Rath has been a "conscience of the world." He has raised his voice to alert the people in America and beyond to the fact that the Bush/Cheney Administration has been deceiving the world about September 11 and the Iraq War.

During the current 9/11 investigation, everything Dr. Rath publicly predicted has been confirmed.

Now, with world peace being threatened like never before, Dr. Rath raises his voice again:

EVERY RESPONSIBLE PERSON MUST ACT TO PRESERVE WORLD PEACE - NOW!

If the people of America, as well as the political leaders of the world, do not act now to remove the Bush/Cheney regime, Armageddon is certain to happen. The most straightforward way to terminate the Bush/Cheney threat to world peace would be for the American people to vote them out of office in the forthcoming election. But everyone needs to realize that under the Bush/Cheney regime there will not be a democratic election in November 2004.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE MUST TAKE ACTION - NOW!

- Impeach President Bush and Vice President Cheney! No democratic nation can allow its political leaders to violate national and international laws and sacrifice democracy and remain unpunished. The American people must demand that the US Congress start impeachment proceedings now!

THE UNITED NATIONS MUST TAKE ACTION - NOW!

- The United Nations must prosecute the Bush/Cheney regime for breach of international law and other crimes against humanity. The UN was founded as the government of the world with the primary goal of securing world peace. The UN Charter commands that immediate action be taken against anyone endangering world peace. The Bush/Cheney regime is currently the greatest threat to world peace.
- Immediate proceedings must be initiated against the Bush/Cheney regime at the UN's International Criminal Court in The Hague for breaking international law with the illegal war against Iraq and for other crimes against humanity.
- If the United Nations, the representative body of the people of the world, does not act now, including by imposing political and economic sanctions against the Bush/Cheney regime, it will lose its very reason to exist.

THE HEADS OF STATE MUST TAKE ACTION - NOW!

- Every political leader, every government and hundreds of millions of people worldwide must unite to support the people of America and the United Nations in these efforts to prevent World War III. Every political, economic and other non-violent action must be undertaken by the people of the world and their governments to terminate the Bush/Cheney regime now!

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO WAIT. THE TIME TO ACT IS NOW!

Matthias Rath

US Declaration of Independence

The Background

Having acceded to the United Nations proposal to replace the Iraqi Governing Council with a caretaker government when returning sovereignty to Iraqis on June 30, the options for the Bush Administration were becoming ever more limited.

Hiroshima, August 6, 1945:
Any use of nuclear weapons means complete destruction

Direct intervention by the Bush administration in the Korean peninsula and support for Israel's policy of escalation in the Middle East once again raised the specter of weapons of mass destruction being used and the threat of a third world war.

The psychological effect of placing the United States on such a war footing would enable the Bush Administration to assume the kind of emergency powers that it is not possible to exercise in peacetime, but which are vital to the success of a covert pharmaceutical survival plan.

The impetus for the election of a new president under such circumstances would be small, even if President Bush allowed the election to take place at all. It was beginning to seem that abolishing democracy through escalation of events toward a world war could prove an attractive proposition for the man in the White House.

The Reaction

Five days later, the appalling physical and sexual abuse of Iraqi prisoners at Abu Ghraib prison near Baghdad and violations of human rights against other prisoners came to light when photographs were released by the US media, sparking outrage around the world. The inhuman nature of the invasion of Iraq is graphically exposed by these images.

By mid-May President Bush had opened up a new front in the war on terror in a region that military officials feared could become the next base for Al Qaeda – the largely 'ungoverned' swath of territory stretching from the Horn of Africa to the Western Sahara's Atlantic coast.

Soldier Lynndie England, here seen in Abu Ghraib, has been sentenced for her crimes in the meantime

The Outcome

For the first time ever, a non-US citizen had been cleared by the legal department of the most respected newspaper in America to publicly call for the impeachment of the President of the United States and for the United Nations to prosecute him for war crimes. We were living in extraordinary times.

Why 9/11? Why the Iraq War?

An Open Letter from Matthias Rath M.D. to the People of America and the World

One year after his public warnings of the deception by the Bush-Administration about 9/11 and the war against Iraq, everything Dr. Rath predicted has come true. With this deception confirmed by insiders of the Bush Administration during the current 9/11 investigation, Dr. Rath now raises his voice once again to alert the people of America and the world: THE WORST IS YET TO COME!

THE SOBERING FACTS:

- Did you know that the multi-trillion dollar pharmaceutical industry is
- the largest corporate benefactor of the September 11 tragedy and the attack on Iraq, because without this global media distraction the pharmaceutical 'business with disease' would no longer exist;
  - the largest corporate sponsor of the Bush election campaign and, therefore, the recipient of hundreds of billions worth of benefits from political decisions taken by the Bush administration?

ONLY BY ANSWERING "WHO BENEFITTED FROM THESE TRAGEDIES?" WILL THE '9/11 INVESTIGATION' FIND THE TRUTH!

UNMASKED, WHAT NEXT?

The motives behind 9/11 and the Iraq war are now evident for everyone and the first dissidents are speaking out. Imagine, what will come to light if the White House is turned over to a new administration. This would be the end of the special interest groups, above all the pharmaceutical industry.

To prevent this they must try to hold onto their power and try to justify their actions retrospectively. This can only be achieved by taking advantage of even bigger tragedies in the future, including the use of biological, chemical or nuclear weapons.

IF THE PEOPLE OF AMERICA DO NOT SAY 'NO' TO THESE INTEREST GROUPS - THE WORST IS YET TO COME.

The adjacent ad is an exact reprint of the Open Letter published by Dr. Rath in The New York Times on February 28, 2003 on the eve of the war against Iraq.

Mr. Bush - This War Is Not a Sign of Strength, But of Desperation!

Open Letter by Matthias Rath, M.D. to US-President George Bush and to the People of the World!

"As the physician and scientist who was privileged to contribute discoveries that make the eradication of cardiovascular disease by natural means possible and save millions of lives, I am asking you: could it be that this war is not about fighting 'terrorism' or conquering oil fields but about protecting the largest investment industry - the pharmaceutical industry - from collapse?"

Millions of people worldwide are waking up to the fact that the pharmaceutical industry is an investment industry based on the continuation of diseases.

The survival of the pharmaceutical investment industry is threatened by four main factors:

1 Unsolvable business conflict. The nature of the pharmaceutical investment industry is the 'business with disease'. Its basis is the patentability of new synthetic drugs that merely target symptoms but do not eliminate the root cause of diseases. The continued existence of diseases and their expansion is a precondition for further growth of this industry. Prevention and eradication of diseases undermines the economic basis of this business.

2 Unsolvable legal conflicts. A wave of patient litigation against the deadly side effects of pharmaceutical drugs threatens to cripple this industry. An end to this litigation is not in sight, since drug side effects are the fourth leading cause of death in the industrialized world (Journal of the American Medical Association, April 15, 1998). Side effects of pharmaceutical drugs kill more Americans every year than WWII and the Vietnam War combined.

3 Unsolvable ethical conflicts. The pharmaceutical industry faces an intrinsic conflict between maintaining profits from patent fees and meeting the health needs of people. In the developing countries, the profitability of drugs has been a major factor contributing to the spread of AIDS and other epidemics.

4 Unsolvable scientific conflicts. Advances in vitamin research, cellular medicine and natural health allow the control of today's most common diseases. These safe, effective and affordable natural therapies focus on the prevention and eradication of diseases - not only the alleviation of symptoms. This fact and the low profitability of these non-patentable natural approaches, threaten the economic base of the pharmaceutical investment business.

While many events led up to the current crisis, none was as threatening to the survival of the entire pharmaceutical industry as the scandal around Bayer's cholesterol lowering drug Baycol.

In August 2001 Bayer had to withdraw its leading new drug Baycol because more than 50 people had already died from taking it and more than 6 million patients were at risk from the deadly side effects of rhabdomyolysis (dissolving of muscle tissue). British phar-

September 11, 2001
2,600 innocent people died in this tragedy. The same number of people die from side effects of prescription drugs every ten days (Source: JAMA, April 15, 1998).

maeutical multinational Smith Kline Beecham (SKB) was Bayer's global marketing partner.

Bayer - a century old flagship of the pharmaceutical industry - and British SKB - the world's second largest drug maker - were faced with crippling lawsuits and other devastating economic consequences:

- Over 7,000 Patients taking Baycol from around the world have filed individual and class action lawsuits against these drug companies.
- Government authorities filed criminal lawsuits against the executives of these pharmaceutical companies for gross negligence. These executives knew about the deadly side effects while continuing to press for higher dosages.
- Investors lost billions of dollars in share value, threatening the very survival of these companies.

The Baycol scandal was only the beginning of a 'domino effect'. Within weeks many multinational drug companies were faced with lawsuits from patients suffering severe side effects from taking other pharmaceutical drugs (beta blockers, calcium antagonists, estrogen replacement, etc).

In summary, the pharmaceutical industry was facing the same grim fate as the tobacco industry, with entire States and Nations suing these companies for billions in damages. In August 2001, the end of the pharmaceutical industry seemed closer than ever.

But then everything stopped on September 11, 2001. On this day global attention shifted away from the crisis facing this industry.

Since then, the main goal of the Bush administrations has become to secure the survival of the pharmaceutical industry through:

- Attempts to overcome the unsolvable scientific conflicts. The Bush administration is spearheading an international effort by the pharmaceutical industry to outlaw natural health therapies world-wide by abusing the United Nations 'Codex Alimentarius' (food standards) commission.

- Attempts to overcome the unsolvable ethical conflicts. The recent 'relief' program for fighting AIDS in developing countries is a 15 billion Dollar subsidy program for drug makers. While neglecting effective natural therapies to fight immune deficiencies this plan maintains the economic dependency on drug companies.

- Attempts to overcome the unsolvable legal conflicts. A key provision of the 'Homeland Security Act' grants immunity to the pharmaceutical companies for present and future product liability claims for vaccines. Further plans for 'medical litigation reform' include limiting product liability lawsuits against drug companies.

- Attempts to overcome the unsolvable business conflict. This conflict cannot be solved because it would destroy the very nature of the pharmaceutical "business with disease".

The only option for this industry's survival are protectionist laws that artificially maintain control of the pharmaceutical investment business and its global health monopoly.

The war against Iraq is not primarily about fighting 'terrorism' or conquering oil fields. It is part of a long-term strategy of the pharmaceutical/petrochemical investment groups to create the psychological state of fear to maintain global control.

Long term international conflicts, wars - even the use of weapons of mass destruction - can be used to achieve this goal and suppress any opposition.

This war is not a sign of strength - but of desperation.

Dr. Matthias Rath is the physician and scientist who led the breakthrough in the natural control of cardiovascular disease and cancer. He is member of the New York Academy of Sciences and other renowned scientific organizations. 10 years ago, the late Dr. Linus Pauling, recipient of the Nobel Prize in Chemistry and Peace stated: "Your discoveries are so important for millions of people that they threaten entire industries. One day there may even be wars just to prevent this breakthrough from being widely accepted. This is the time, when you need to stand up!" - This time is now.

LESSONS FROM HISTORY

70 years ago, this week, an event shocked the world and set the stage for the last World War. On February 27, 1933 the German parliament building, the Reichstag, was set on fire.

The official version that "terrorists" had led the attack was soon questioned abroad. Today it is a fact that the Reichstagsbrand was deliberately used as a pretense and that the 'empowerment laws' following this event had been prepared in advance.

- Following the burning of the Reichstag:
- civil rights were abolished,
  - empowerment laws were enacted, including a "Homeland Security Act" ("Schutz von Heim und Reich").

The Reichstag-Assault in 1933 provided the legal platform for 12 years of dictatorship and WWII. Its main benefactor was IG-Farben, the largest European petro-chemical Cartel seeking control of the oil and chemical industry worldwide.

February 27, 1933
- 70 Years Ago -

The German Parliament building, the Reichstag, was set on fire. This event delivered the pretense for the transformation of a democracy into a dictatorship on behalf of the largest European corporate Cartel.

In the Nuremberg War Tribunal in 1946/47 this Cartel was tried for 'conquest', 'robbery' and 'slavery' and - as a result - it was dismantled into Bayer, BASF and Hoechst.

This War Tribunal established that without these corporations, World War II would not have been possible. US-Chief Prosecutor Telford Taylor stated: "If their guilt is not brought to the daylight, they will do even more harm in future generations."

Then and now millions of decent people are in danger of being misled by their own governments. And those who do not learn the lessons from history are doomed to live through it again!"

THE DR. RATH HEALTH FOUNDATION

The Dr. Rath Health Foundation is a non-profit organization, dedicated to research and education in natural health.

The health benefits of vitamins, minerals and other essential nutrients (coenzymes) for the metabolism for every cell have been documented in the textbooks of biochemistry, biology and cell physiology. While these life-saving facts have been established among scientists for decades, they are withheld from the textbooks of medicine, the doctors and ultimately from millions of patients.

This is no coincidence, but the direct result of the 'gate keepers' of pharmaceutically-oriented medicine. The economic reason for withholding this life-saving information from billions of people worldwide is obvious: vitamins and other essential micronutrients are not patentable, and therefore threaten the multi-trillion dollar pharmaceutical 'business with disease.' This investment business thrives exclusively on the patentability of synthetic molecules.

It is the goal of the Dr. Rath Health Foundation to translate this life-saving knowledge into daily medical practice. We and others have shown that the primary cause of today's most widespread diseases - including cardiovascular diseases and cancer - is long-term deficiencies of vitamins and other micronutrients in million of cells in our body. The abundantly available research and clinical studies about the health benefits of these micronutrients are documented on the website of our Foundation, www.dr-rath-health-foundation.org.

For making this life-saving information available to improve the health of millions of people, Dr. Rath and his Foundation have been consistently attacked by the pharmaceutical cartel and its stakeholders in politics. The Bush Administration is attempting to block the global dissemination of this life-saving information even through the United Nations and its sub-organizations, including the World Health Organization (WHO) and the Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO).

In order to protect the interests of the pharmaceutical 'investment business with disease,' the Bush Administration is spearheading an international effort to outlaw natural health therapies. Against the interests of millions of Americans and by abusing their tax money, the Bush Administration is attempting to prevent the people of the world from having access to safe, effective and affordable natural therapies.

Every sensible person immediately understands that by implementing this life-saving knowledge into public health policies, billions of lives and trillions in health care costs can be saved.

The current health care crisis can only be solved with legislation guaranteeing and promoting science-based natural therapies in America and beyond. How long are the American people willing to tolerate the Bush administration's boycott of global access to natural health?

The decade long criticism of Dr. Rath about the unethical pharmaceutical 'business with disease' has recently gained dramatic support from the Vatican. In an official statement issued on January, 29, 2004, the Pope condemned the business conduct of the "pharmaceutical cartel" as "genocide", particularly with its devastating consequences for the poor.

The Background

At the beginning of this Presidential election year, United States troops were still embroiled in the Iraq war – nearly one year on and with no end in sight. Both President Bush and Prime Minister Blair were facing increasing criticism of the decision to go to war, illegally and increasingly it seemed, without even any real foundation.

Iraqi weapons of mass destruction, the supposed threat to the homeland security of the US and the UK that had formed the basis of the pre-emptive strike had not been found and no links between Saddam and Bin Laden had been established. David Kay, the former head of the U.S. weapons inspection teams in Iraq, informed a senate committee on January, 28 that no WMD had been found in Iraq and that pre-war intelligence was "almost all wrong" about Saddam's arsenal.

The possibility that the Bush administration might try another pre-emptive strike using the same justification to divert attention from the lack of evidence for the Iraq war and that, this time, it might actually provoke the use of such weapons could not be discounted. In election year, President Bush faced the prospect of having to hand the White House over to another administration and of having the real nature of the war on terror exposed for all to see. Desperate situations require desperate measures.

During a period of declining public support, only by retrospective justification for his actions could he hope to avoid this situation and bolster his chances of re-election later in the year. The survival of the special interest groups around President Bush, above all the pharmaceutical industry, also depended upon this tactic.

The Reaction

Uncertainties about the events surrounding 9/11 remained and centered upon an FBI whistleblower's revelation in 2002 that warnings of an imminent attack on the US were ignored. Since the war on terror was a direct response to these attacks, many people questioned the motives of the Bush administration for its unilateral and illegal actions.

Within two days of the publication of our open letter, the 9/11 Commission had forced Bush to agree that his national security advisor Condoleezza Rice should testify under oath in order that a "complete picture" of the events of September 11 would be given to the nation (MSNBC News, March 30, 2004).

The Outcome

It was clear that, in this election year, healthcare would be one of the major campaign issues. By making clear statements in our open letter that the pharmaceutical industry is the main sponsor of the Bush Administration and also the main benefactor of the war on terror, a debate about the real healthcare issues would be possible.

Suppression of life-saving information about the effectiveness, safety and affordability of vitamins and other natural remedies by the Bush Administration would be a key factor in this debate and we made sure it would be kept at the forefront of people's minds.

The fact that the New York Times, one of the world's leading newspapers, continued to clear our open letters for publication told us a great deal about the underlying sense of unease in the United States over the tactics of the Bush Administration and its susceptibility to corporate influence. This encouraged us to continue to oppose President Bush and his supporters ever more forcefully – as would become evident later in the year.
